Salvage firm target for EPA investigators

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Staff writer

Recent complaints by residents have resulted in a certified letter from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency to Belson Recycling, a salvage firm located at the south end of Washington Avenue near Race Street, Venice.

Reporting the EPA action at the May 14 meeting of the Venice City Council, the mayor referred briefly to an April 29 incident when fumes were reported coming from a leaking tanker-type railroad car lying on its side in an area said to be on Belson Recycling property.

The fumes were described as coming from a substance which was "boiling in the ground" and giving off an acrid odor.

Venice firefighters dumped over 2,500 gallons of water on the "bubbling ground" when the fumes and smoke began spreading across the surrounding area.

Mayor Tyrone Echols said, "I heard from John Powell at the EPA who turned it (information) over to the proper people."

"They went out to the site but didn't find anything out of the ordinary in the cars. The cars apparently had been open for some time," the mayor said.

Powell, an emergency response officer from the Illinois EPA's Collinsville office, came to the Venice Police Department April 29 and talked with policemen.

At that time, Powell said it was impossible to say what was inside the abandoned tanker, which he said might have been at that location for years.

His preliminary findings would be turned over to the EPA's Division of Air Pollution Control for further investigation, he added.

The certified letter was sent to Lane Belson, as owner of Belson Recycling firm, by Walter H. Franke, regional manager of the Division of Air Pollution Control.

"This inquiry concerns apparent noncompliance with requirements of the State of Illinois Air Pollution Control Regulations and the Environmental Protection Act," the letter said.

Based on an inspection of the Venice facility by Jeff Benbenek and Mark Schlueter on May 6, the letter reported.

"Open burning of trade waste, which is an apparent violation of 35 Ill. Adm. Code 237.102a of the regulations."

"The agency has received citizen complaints alleging air pollution from open burning at this facility, which indicates an apparent violation of Section 9(a) of the Act."

The Belson firm was asked to submit in writing within 15 days of receipt of the letter reasons for the occurrences as well as a description of steps initiated to prevent any further recurrence.

Noncompliance with the requirements may be the subject of enforcement action pursuant to the Illinois EPA Act, Franke said.

Echols said he understands there have been 15 complaints signed by citizens in addition to the police complaints.

"There is no question the EPA is going to keep on it," Echols told the aldermen. He added there is further legislative action under way in Springfield which may require notification to a city when any waste materials are being moved through a community.

A public nuisance allegation was signed by police officers April 29.

A further complaint was filed against the firm at 2:35 p.m. May 15 when a police officer alleged seeing a large amount of smoke.

Several boxcars and several piles of wood were burning at the time, he said.

Adding a footnote to the council discussion, 3rd Ward Alderman John Ervin said, "Since the last meeting, I went over there, walked all over the yards and talked with a manager."

"They are in the process of salvaging boxcars, along with parts, and there are certain pieces of wood they can't get to. They seem to be working on it (the problem)," he reported.

Production launched at AO Smith plant

By BILL WINTER
Staff writer

The A.O. Smith Automotive Products Company's Granite City plant—most modern of its kind anywhere in the world—began production Monday, May 13.

The announcement was made at Wednesday's monthly Rotary prayer breakfast by Stanley Lindquist, plant manager. He outlined the $50 million remodeling program and reported that all steel utilized at the plant will be provided by Granite City Steel.

"I'D LIKE TO THANK the community and in particular the leaders of the community for their warm welcome and the cooperation extended to us. It is truly a pleasure to be back," Lindquist told the gathering at Charlie's Restaurant.

"The Granite City plant was originally built as a 100,000-square-foot facility, completed in March 1964 for manufacture of full-size Chevrolet passenger car frame assemblies," he related.

"Through those early days and following model changes and increasing volume requirements, the plant grew to its current size of about 470,000 square feet—more than 11 acres under roof. Employment rose from 1,000 when it opened to about 1,350 prior to shutdown but hit levels of over 2,000 along the way. During its lifetime it shipped nearly 15 million frames plus other automotive structural products.

"WHILE THE SHUTDOWN of the plant did not occur until September

'Terrorist attack' prompts court order

By JACK VENTIMIGLIA
Executive Editor

As a result of a "terrorist attack" in Granite City, the guarantee of free speech was pitted in court last week against the need to protect those who work at the Hope Clinic in Granite City.

Eighteen persons continue to be denied the right to protest within 100 yards of the clinic. According to Madison County Associate Judge Jonathon Isbell of Collinsville, he issued the order after a man allegedly hurled a firebomb at the clinic.

Arrested and charged in the April 15 incident was William Lanning, 30, of 2420 Adams St., Granite City. Granite City police reported finding a soft-drink bottle, containing a cloth smelling of gasoline, near the clinic. The bottle is said to have been hurled from a speeding car.

On Thursday, following the hearing in Alton, Isbell said he was compelled to issue the order because of concern at the clinic that safety was jeopardized by the protestors. Although he said he was reluctant to restrain the protestors because they are being denied a Constitutional right, the judge said he must also weigh the need to preserve order.

"My concern at the time I issued the restraining order was to prevent the possibility of a terrorist attack on the clinic," he said.

Isbell said he had hoped the issue could be resolved at the hearing Wednesday, but the hearing lasted much longer than anticipated, from 1 p.m. until later than 10:30 p.m. He said only the clinic's side of the argument was given at the hearing, necessitating a continuance to allow the defendants to be heard. The hearing is set to resume at 9:30 a.m. Thursday in Alton, he said.

In addition to lengthy remarks on behalf of the clinic, the hearing was hampered by not having all defendants present. Isbell said some of the defendants living in Missouri had not been notified of the hearing.

The restraining order against the 18 will remain in effect until a decision by the judge is rendered.

None of the 18 have violated the order, though Sandra Cimaco of rural Belleville has questioned the order's constitutionality and indicated she might be inclined to violate it. However, in a peaceful protest held May 11 at the clinic, Cimaco conceded to pleas from other anti-abortionists not to risk being arrested.

The 18 slapped with a restraining order include Cimaco, the Rev. Edwin Arentsen of Addieville, and Charles Barth of Granite City.

The clinic has been the scene of numerous protests over the past several years. On April 6, 10 Missourians, mostly from St. Louis, were arrested at the clinic. Charges were criminal trespass and resisting arrest. One man was found lying at

Civil servants need quiet time

WASHINGTON — You probably didn't realize it, but civil servants need their "quiet time" just like preschoolers. That, at any rate, is the conviction of Kenn George, director of the Commerce Department's U.S. and Foreign Commercial Service.

Jack Anderson

An internal memorandum

has decreed a "quiet hour" from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, "to provide uninterrupted time to all employees so that they may do individual work, such as reading, writing, typing, proofing, etc." The employees won't be expected to lie down on the job, but stimulating activity will be discouraged. "The hour will not be used for meetings, conferences, telephone calls, personal business, coffee breaks, etc.," the memo warns.

Outsiders are to be told that they should not call during quiet hour and disturb the employees. "All people who normally do business with (the agency) should be advised not to call or visit during quiet hour," the memo states.

As for those thoughtless individuals who expect federal workers to be available during business hours, the memo says: "Telephones may be answered by one person, taking names and messages, for all remaining personnel on quiet hour. This duty should be rotated so that one person is not constantly taking messages."

Answering machines may also be used to keep quiet hour quiet. But whether callers reach a mechanical or a human respondent, they "should be advised that the person they are seeking is not 'available at the moment' and will return the call shortly," the memo orders. "Other equivalent, diplomatic statements can also be used," it adds.

What about VIPs and TIPS — Very or Truly Important Persons — who may not be aware of the office's quiet hour restriction? "Exceptions to quiet hour should be understood by all," the memo says, and it lists a few obvious ones: the White House, congressional offices and the "immediate office" of Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige.

But increase President Reagan begins to make a habit of calling the U.S. and Foreign Commercial Service between 3 p.m. and 4 p.m., the memo warns sternly: "Exceptions must be minimal."

George, the man who dreamed up quiet hour, said it was an experiment intended to improve productivity. He said he tried it himself for several weeks and it worked.

We believe him. Our associate Donald Goldberg called George one afternoon and was told the boss wasn't "available at the moment." Sure enough, George returned the call after 4 p.m.

Footnote: Meanwhile, in North Dakota, Col. John Politi gave 350 "non-essential" employees at Grand Forks Air Force Base a day off with pay because he was so pleased with the outcome of an inspector general's visit to the missile base.

The gesture cost the taxpayers about $45,000, may have violated regulations, and certainly aroused the wrath of workers in the commissary and the fire department, who were deemed "essential" and had to work as usual.

COMPLEX DEPARTURES: Nothing is simple in the United States Senate. There is even a set of rules, drawn up by the Congressional Research Service, dictating how senators should leave office.

Office furniture must be left behind unless the ex-senator wishes to pay the sergeant-at-arms for it. All equipment, such as typewriters and pencil sharpeners, must be strictly accounted for.

The National Gallery of Art wants its high-class reproductions back, and the Botanical Gardens at the foot of Capitol Hill would like the two plants each senator is entitled to borrow returned upon departure. But neither provider will raise a stink if the lawmaker takes his pictures and plants with him.

The Senate restaurants and the Library of Congress are all little more hard-nosed. Departing senators — or, in the case of departure by death, the executor or next-of-kin — are sent a final reckoning on meals and books they signed for. If they don't pay up, the final paycheck is withheld.

Zero growth blamed on toilet seats

In the recent Senate budget vote, the Defense Department wound up with a zero growth figure for 1986, which was quite a comedown from the 9 percent increase Secretary Weinberger had originally asked for. It came as no surprise to Harold Simon, who keeps track of Pentagon spending.

"The Secretary has nobody to blame but his toilet seats," Harold said.

I seemed puzzled so he continued. "Weinberger lost the battle for more funds the day the story broke that the Defense Department was paying $600 a seat. I call it the 'Toilet Seat Factor' or 'TSF'."

For several years, Charley Taxpayer bought the whole Pentagon Disneyland package, MX missiles and all. Charley assumed our defense brass were handling his money as they would their own. The poor guy had no idea how much to pay for an F-16 fighter, M-1 tank or Trident submarine, so he gave his proxy to Weinberger and his merry band of men. After all, when you start talking millions and billions of dollars you are no longer talking Charley's language.

Art Buchwald

"But then came the revelations about the $600 Lockheed commode cover and suddenly Charley said, 'Hey, wait a minute. What kind of a dummy do you think I am? I may not know the price of a B-1 bomber but I sure as hell know what a toilet seat costs — and it ain't $600 — no way.'"

"For the want of a reasonably priced seat, the battle for the big toys was lost. Weinberger's people misread Charley's patriotism as a sign they could throw around his money, particularly at a time when the government was cutting student aid for his kids, and freezing his mother's Social Security payments."

"I thought it was the news of the $400 hammer and $760 screwdriver that got Charley mad."

"The price of the hammer and screwdriver made him more confused than angry. Then came the $7,900 coffeepot. Charley's a good guy and laughed it off. But it was the toilet seat price that got to him. That's why I call it the Pentagon's 'Toilet Seat Factor' rather than the screwdriver or monkey wrench factor. When Charley read about the commode he just opened his window and shouted, 'I'm mad as hell and I'm not going to take it anymore!' The moment I heard him I knew Weinberger had blown his budget request."

"Poor Weinberger," I said. "He probably didn't know any more than Charley what it was costing the American people for an airborne toilet seat."

"That's why the TSF is so important to the Pentagon. They can go to Charley and ask for a billion dollars for a 'Star Wars' laser gun, and he'll write out a check without a whimper. But don't try to ask him for an item that costs less than $1,000."

"Does the TSF only apply to hammers, screwdrivers and toilet seats?"

No, it's become synonymous with hunting lodge weekends, lobbying and public relations fees that the defense contractors have added on to their bills, private plane trips to the Super Bowl, and, of course, kennel, boarding charges for executives' dogs. The contractors were nickel and diming poor Charley Taxpayer to death, and he was getting sick of it."

"Maybe when Weinberger counterattacks with announcements about all the new weapons the Soviets have built, Congress will relent and forget the TSF."

"I doubt it."

"How can you be so sure?" "Charley has spoken and the voice of the taxpayer has been heard in the land. The memory of the commode cover is still too fresh in everyone's mind. The Defense Department has to clean up its act before Charley will give it a blank check again."

"What can Weinberger learn from all this?"

"The lesson is, if you want to avoid a toilet seat factor in the Pentagon, don't ever overcharge the man in the street for something he can price in a hardware store."

Going to have a baby? Well, you are not alone

So you are going to have a baby. A pair never beat a full house, they say. Into such a world you are about to bring a baby. Next month, maybe. You are not human if you have not wondered through each long night... If it is right.

Mothers have worried about that since a long time before you switched to low heels. You'll have to endure the mornings and the waiting and the dieting and the waiting and the wondering and the waiting... alone.

But in worrying, you have lots of company. When Nancy of Kentucky entered the valley of the shadow what was there for her baby? The British were shooting at us in a prelude to war.

A former candidate for president and member of the Senate was being tried for treason.

Her husband was an illiterate, wandering laborer. But in the agony of poverty, war, and public scandal... Nancy Lincoln's baby was born.

Suppose you had been Mary, a slave girl.

To you, in Diamond Grove, Mo., in 1864, it would have seemed the whole mad world was aflame.

Civil war matched the cruel weapons of Grant and Lee.

Sherman was shooting and looting his way to the sea. Had Mary known that six weeks later she and her boy child would be kidnapped by night riders and that she would never be heard from again... it would not have changed things. She would have had her baby.

For, there were reasons George Washington Carver had to be.

There were important reasons.

In Minnesota Edith was frightened, too. In 1898 the United States was barely struggling to its financial feet when the battleship Maine blew up and the Spanish-American war exploded with it. At the height of the storm Edith's child was born — Charles Mayo of Rochester.

It was uncertain adventure for Harry and Catherine Crosby of Tacoma, Washington.

Then, too, there was a war to be won. But more, there was a song to be sung. And Bing was born.

That's what I am trying to say. That is the whole of it. That there is an important job to do... For a teacher, preacher, mechanic... For a barber, carpenter, doctor or somebody to grub out the sewers. It is important.

Even if there are wars.

All police need armor to protect themselves

To the Editor: Since 1974, over 1,000 U.S. police officers have been feloniously killed in the line of duty. This month, we honor their memory on Peace Officers Memorial Day.

Congress authorized the president to also proclaim National Police Week, a time when all of America can recognize the service law enforcement gives our society. How fitting that this takes place in the month that begins with Law Day, when we reaffirm our national commitment to the rule of law in this country.

This month also marks the 92nd anniversary of the International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP), an organization of law enforcement executives in the United States.

This week of recognition was first proposed by the IACP in 1935 to "establish a feeling of cooperation among the citizens and police officers of this country."

Today, with treacherously improved cooperation between police and their communities, we see an overall decline in the crime rate for the past 2 years, good news to police officers and other citizens.

There is good news, too, in the steady decline in the number of officers feloniously killed over the last decade.

Since 1974's high of 132 police officers killed, the number dropped to 80 in 1983, and last year a further decrease to 72 officers who died protecting their communities.

Of course, the loss of one police officer to criminal action is too much, but it is heartening to see a lessening in the casualty rate in today's war on crime.

The decline in officers killed is partially a result of technology, the development of Kevlar, the ballistic fiber used in soft body armor.

We see soft body armor, or ballistic vests, saving officers' lives again and again, not only in gun battles but in some automobile accidents when a steering column would have penetrated an officer's chest if it were not for the vest.

The FBI has issued vests to all its special agents for use when they encounter the kind of threatening situations that can confront police officers at any time.

In cities after city across the nation, if the municipal budget does not allow for purchase of vests for officers, public subscriptions, often begun by the news media, have raised the necessary funds.

Most of the officers killed in the last decade were shot in the upper chest or upper back, areas that would have been protected by ballistic vests if they had been worn.

In 1983, one-fourth of the victim officers killed were wearing some type of body armor, but all were shot in areas not protected by their vests (except one officer shot at close range by a 30-30 rifle).

In this month when we honor the memory of those law enforcement officers who have made the ultimate sacrifice, when we honor those who stand ready to do the same, it is time that every community insure that its police officers have access to this technological achievement.

Director, FBI

McKinley Bridge traffic jumps

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Staff writer

Nearly a half-million vehicles used the McKinley Bridge in Venice during April. Tom Fields, bridge manager, reported to the Venice City Council May 14.

The 476,984 vehicles crossing the bridge last month represent an average increase of 1,860 vehicles each day as compared to April 1984, Fields said.

Heavy traffic congestion in the vicinity of Interstate 270's Mississippi River bridge, due to road repairs on the Illinois side, may account for an upswing in the Venice bridge traffic.

Most of the 1-270 traffic tieups, frequently extending two and three miles from the bridge in both the eastbound and westbound lanes, are being experienced in the early morning and after-work hours.

In a report concerning police activities, Police Chief Farris Smith said a check for $2,254 was received by the city for fines collected in April.

Sixty-one men and 22 women were arrested last month on a total of 92 charges, including 33 city ordinance and 36-city traffic violations.

Ten state ordinance and 10 state traffic violations were recorded, 10 warrants were served, three people were arrested for other departments and four juveniles were arrested, the chief said.

In other action at the meeting, aldermen voted to donate $400 to sponsor a team and help purchase uniforms for children and youths, ages 5 through 16, in the Venice Park District summer baseball program.

Some concern was expressed by 3rd Ward Alderman John Ervin that youngsters interested in sports other than baseball and basketball, such as soccer, may also need support.

"They (park district organizers) are considering soccer and some other type of activities for those children, I understand," Ervin said. Action will be taken against anyone depositing refuse in a street, Mayor Tyrone Echols stressed.

He reported a recent incident in which a Venice resident dumped debris in the middle of an intersection after collecting the refuse from catch basins.

"This man piled all of the sewage in the intersection. It was a form of protest, I suppose.

"I am very anxious about the water standing around, but every time a torrential rain occurs it washes silt and debris into the basins.

"Now if you'll go along with a tax increase, maybe we can hire a full crew to clean them (basins) out all the time.

"This act really infuriated me," the mayor said. "I think he used a wheelbarrow to get it to the middle of the street and it was about three feet high. I take offense at that.

"If anybody sees something like that going on, don't complain to me. Call the police and have them arrested," Echols said.

"The man wanted to talk to me, but I said, 'Go inside and talk to your wife. You may not see her for a while (if arrested).'" It was terrible, absolutely terrible.

Mayor Echols continued, "Then I go on the next street and see Mrs. (Dorothy) Griggs cleaning up people's yards, something she didn't have to do. (She is among the leaders in the community's clean-up, fix-up campaign).

"I've seen (4th Ward Alderman Victor) Valentine pulling out debris caught in the catch basins and I've done it myself. So don't do that kind of thing (dumping debris in the street). Don't do it or you will be arrested," Echols cautioned the public.

First Ward Alderman John Pleig urged action requiring the owner of property, or the real estate agent representing the owner, to be present at the time a dwelling is inspected prior to the granting of an occupancy permit.

"I think we are wasting our time letting the people wanting to rent a place to be there, instead of the owner or real estate people," Pleig said.

Village board levy for police

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
Staff writer

The Pontoon Beach Village Board has set its property tax levy for police protection at $6,640. Based on assessment estimates, the tax rate on each $100 assessed valuation is expected to be 7 1/2 cents, about the same as a year ago.

The levy was approved May 14. In other action, the board agreed to a settlement in what has been termed the "Getto suit." According to the settlement of the class-action suit, the village has 18 months to pay $2,478 to taxpayers in the form of deductions on their utility tax payments.

In addition, Illinois Power Co. will contribute $74, for a total settlement of $2,552.

Plaintiffs in the class-action suit are Charles Getto, Edward Sullivan, John Dunn, Jerry Henderson and Jane Bolger. They filed suit on behalf of Illinois citizens against various electric and gas companies and the municipalities receiving revenues from utility taxes.

"The settlement amounts to an indication that the tax was miscalculated by the municipalities," Pontoon Beach attorney Keith Jensen said.

He explained that a settlement was reached with Commonwealth Edison Co. in the Cook County Circuit Court. At that time, the judge said settlements with other defendants would be allowed.

Jensen recommended that the village board accept the settlement, and the board complied. Other items approved included:

—The board approved a zoning request from George Fisher, 53 Iris Ave., to construct a garage on his property.

—Board members discussed having a clean-up day May 22 but delayed setting a date pending contact with Nameoki Township Highway Commissioner W. Lee Adams. The clean-up day allows residents to put outside old household appliances to be picked up by the township highway department.

—The board appropriated $4,000 for new carpeting and $500 to divide a room in the village hall.

—It granted permission to the Remove Intoxicated Drivers group to hold meetings June 3, July 8 and Aug. 12 in the village hall. The group meets at 7:30 p.m. A St. Louis radio station representative is to speak at the June meeting, which is open to the public.

—The board approved a request from Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary members to sell poppies May 25 and 27 at Pontoon Beach and Breckenridge Lane.

11 charges follow incident in Venice

Zeke L. Hunt, 27, of 1218 Robin St., Venice, was booked on 11 charges following a May 8 incident near his home, including an alleged attack on members of a neighboring family and an injury to a police officer.

Michael Malherk, 1220 Robin St., reported he and his brothers, Robert and Darryl, got out of an auto and were accosted by Hunt. Robert Malherk said that, about 20 minutes later, he was walking toward the car when he was jumped from behind. He told of being knocked down by a man who began choking him.

Robert Malherk reported getting free but being grabbed again and thrown into Darryl Malherk's auto, he alleged.

Michael Malherk alleged being threatened and grabbed. Officers went to Hunt's address and said Hunt voiced profanity and threats and tried to fight them.

Force was used to make the arrest and Officer Dan McKinley sustained a slight injury to the forehead during the struggle.

Hunt was charged with three counts of assault, four counts of battery, two counts of resisting arrest and two counts of disorderly conduct. After a court appearance in Granite City, he was released to a deputy sheriff for transfer to the Madison County Jail.

•A.O. Smith back on track

1980, the necessity to do so began unfolding in February 1980 when General Motors announced it would discontinue building full-frame automobiles effective in December 1982. This was a direct result of OPEC oil shortages.

"The full-size GM frame was our Granite City plant's only product and the likelihood of replacing frames with other products within two and a half years was virtually impossible. Consequently, the plant was closed.

"Events since then have been remarkable. Life of full-frame autos has been extended several times because of market demand based on fuel availability.

"WE TOOK successful action to obtain suitable products to replace the frame business as it dwindled down. But it didn't dwindle, creating an unacceptable strain on our Milwaukee facilities. As a result, it was decided to reopen the Granite City plant to produce one of those new products.

"We keep referring to reopening the Granite City plant and it will undoubtedly continue to be stated that way, but the word 'reopen' is a misnomer. We prefer to call it a 're-birth.' We are starting a brand new business, and the only connection to the past is that it is located on the same piece of ground, within the same walls, but not even under the same roof.

"A good chunk of that roof disappeared in the tornado two years ago. It should not be construed that we are opening the doors to be like 'old home week' and 'business as usual.' Nothing could be further from fact.

"THE PLANT is essentially new both inside and out and it's new in organization, in personnel, in outlook, in management style, in concept, and in its dedication to achieving never-ending improvement in productivity and quality.

"It will be a safe and comfortable workplace. We're painting it inside and out, providing all new locker rooms, with new break/rest areas and pleasant vendeteria facilities, all new offices, and the entire plant will be air conditioned. We want it to be a desirable place to work.

"Our initial product—the one that was responsible for reactivating the plant—is a front frame structure providing isolation and installation of the engine and front suspension on a front-wheel-drive automobile for the Ford Motor Company.

"It is part of a brand new automobile designated as the Ford Taurus and Mercury Sable and replaces the current Ford LTD and Mercury Marquis, formerly identified as the Fairmont and Zephyr series. It will compete against the General Motors A car series as a 106-inch wheelbase car with two-door, four-door and station wagon models.

"WE PROJECT annual volume starting at 500,000 units a year, going to 800,000 by 1990. It is a relatively small assembly at 47 pounds, but a highly engineered and technically sophisticated product.

"Since the announcement of the plant opening, a second product has been added. Along with the Taurus cradle, it fills up our plant and we are not seeking any additional products," Lindquist said.

"The second product is a full frame assembly for a 1987 Chrysler mini pickup truck—designated as the N Truck. There are a variety of models for both two- and four-wheel drive. The assemblies are over 16 feet long and weigh 320 pounds plus.

"This truck will compete in the light truck market, principally against the GM S-10 and the Ford Ranger vehicles and, of course, Datsun.

"PERHAPS MINI-truck is the wrong term. It might properly be called 'midi,' since it has increased load-carrying capacity compared to the competition. It will be marketed concurrently with their existing pickup truck models. We expect annual volume to reach 200,000.

"Since the announcement of the plant opening there have been several changes in our installation, startup and production schedules due to changes in our customers' production and marketing plans.

"Installation of all of our Taurus facility is complete with the exception of a few odds and ends. We started production Monday, May 13.

"FIRST SHIPMENTS will be in late June to the Ford assembly plant at Atlanta, Ga. A second assembly plant at Chicago will start up next January.

"The 'N' truck equipment is in the process of installation and we expect to try out our equipment this fall. We plan to start production in April of next year, with first shipments in June to support assembly plant startup at Warren, Mich., in July 1986.

"Employment is 83, including 16 tooling and general maintenance employees and 30 production people. This will slowly grow to about 150 by the end of this year and then increase as we add our second shift operation and bring on 'N' production. We should reach full employment by the end of 1986 of over 300 people."

the clinic door to stop people from walking in.

The clinic made national news in August 1982 when its operator, Dr. Hector Zevallos and his wife, were kidnapped by members of a group calling themselves the Army of God.

The two were returned unharmed. The judge Thursday will be concerned with the precarious balancing of the anti-abortionists' First Amendment rights against the clinic's concern that actions, such as firebombs hurled from speeding cars and kidnapping, will not become more severe.

Q. Something has been puzzling me concerning my personal checking account. What do all those printed numbers on my checks mean? I know that my account number is right there on the bottom of each check, but what is the little group of numbers on the upper right corner, below the individual check number?

A. Those are transit and routing numbers which identify your bank and its location, and help get your paid checks back to your bank, then back to you. Speaking of numbers on checks, are you aware that one of the most common errors made in check writing is failure to make the figure written in numerals and in words match? Strange as it seems, it's true. Many banks will reject a check if the amounts don't match, others will honor the amount written out in words. And, be sure to fill the entire amount line with words or a line. Don't leave any space where an amount could be changed.

Energy savings.

You can turn bad news into real energy savings by replacing your worn-out air conditioner with a new add-on electric heat pump.

A heat pump air conditioner will keep your home cool this summer and use much less electric energy than most older air conditioners. That adds up to noticeable savings on your utility bill!

Year 'round energy economy.

But the advantages of an add-on heat pump don't stop when summer ends. In cold weather, the add-on heat pump switches to a warming cycle to circulate heat into the house. The add-on heat pump works in partnership with your existing forced air furnace to keep your home comfortable year 'round.

More information?

The Marketing Advisor at your local Illinois Power Customer Service Center has all the facts and figures about the energy-saving heat pump. For lots of free information and advice about how to stay comfortable for less, contact Illinois Power Company.

Commodities are to be distributed

Officials in Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice townships and the Salvation Army have announced they will give out surplus government commodities this week.

Commodities will include processed cheese, Cheddar cheese, rice, butter, dry milk, hominy, cornmeal and flour. The honey, cornmeal, dry milk and flour are all in short supply and persons will be asked to take their choice of one.

All products will be given out on a first-come, first-served basis by ticket number received at the door.

To be eligible to receive commodities, persons must be residents of the township where they are getting the cheese. They must be the head of a household or the spouse, have their Social Security number, and sign an affidavit that their total household income is within the correct guidelines.

Recipients are to bring some proof of residence other than a driver's license. An unpaid utility bill or a voter's registration card is adequate, officials said.

Monthly income guidelines are as follows: one person, $519; two persons, $700; three persons, $881; four persons, $1,063; five persons, $1,244; six persons, $1,425; seven persons, $1,606; eight persons, $1,788; and $181 may be added for each additional member of the household.

Chouteau Township will begin distribution at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, May 22, at the Chouteau Township Social Center, 6074 N. Thorngate Drive, Mitchell. Officials stress that the doors will not be opened until 9:30 so that they can get the program set up properly.

Venice Township will give out commodities at 9 a.m. Thursday, May 23, at Engelbert Hall, 10th Street and Washington Avenue. Madison Township officials advise that the honey should not be fed to children under 12 months of age. The officials also note there will be no discrimination on the basis of race, color, sex, creed or national origin.

The Salvation Army, 3007 E. 23rd St., will begin distribution of commodities to Granite City Township residents at 9 a.m. Thursday, May 23. A representative said commodities will be distributed even if there is inclement weather.

Nameoki Township will give away commodities starting at 7:30 a.m. Thursday, May 23. Commodities will be given out at the township hall, 4250 Highway 162.

County board grants area zoning requests

The Madison County Board, following the recommendation of the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals, has granted a special use permit and variance for a borrow pit.

Gordon G. Gass, owner, and S.J. Groves and Sons Company, lessee and operator, requested the special use permit to lease 25 acres on Gass' farm for surface excavation, loading and hauling of dirt to be used for a construction project at another location. The farm is located off Route 162 near the new Interstate 255 project in Nameoki Township. It is in an agricultural district.

The variance allows the petitioners to develop land in a flood area.

The board also approved rezoning a tract of land from an agricultural district to a B-3 highway business district.

Chester A. and Edna Marshall, owners, and Mapco Corporation, purchasers, asked that the land be rezoned so the company can expand its existing operation. The property is located on Route 162 near Route 111 at the Mapco Auto Storage Pool in Nameoki Township.

In addition, the petitioners were granted a special use permit to develop land in a flood hazard area.

Other zoning requests approved by the Madison County Board included the following:

—A request from Bob Becker, owner, and Steve Grimes, occupant, for a special use permit to place a mobile home for the residence of a caretaker in a B-3 highway business district in Nameoki Township, off State Aid 35 near Sandy Lake.

—A request from John Baskett, owner and occupant, for a special use permit to continue a mobile home in an R-4 single-family residence district at 316 Terry Street, Eagle Park Acres, Venice Township.

—A request from James and Patricia Altom, owners, and James Dale Altom, occupant, for a special use permit to place a mobile home in an R-4 single-family residence district at 2215 Harvard St., State Park Place, Nameoki Township.

Granite City mayor among county board appointments

The Madison County Board approved a number of appointments Wednesday. Granite City Mayor Von Dee Cruse was named to the Madison County Transit District board. He replaces former Mayor Paul Schuler and is to serve through Sept. 17, 1987.

Shirley Voegelge of Granite City was reappointed to a two-year term on the Madison County Board of Review, but Fred Fink of Godfrey was not reappointed. Instead, Thelma Houston of Troy will serve as the only Republican on the three-member Board of Review.

George Gordon was appointed to the Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice Drainage and Levee District. He replaces Joseph Stefanoff, who is retiring. Gordon will serve until Sept. 2, 1988.

Arlington Heights Water District Trustee Jerry Lilley was reappointed to his post for five years.

Allen, judges rebut Locher

Madison County State's Attorney Dick Allen last week filed a rebuttal with the Illinois Supreme Court in which he calls allegations by Springfield Attorney Bruce Locher "confemptions, misleading, unsubstantiated and insulting."

Assistant State's Attorney Dan O'Neill hand-delivered the rebuttal, along with one compiled by Madison County Circuit Judges Philip Radick and P.J. O'Neill, to the Supreme Court.

Locher had responded to the most recent attempt Allen made to have him removed as special prosecutor. In the criminal case against former supervisor of assessments Jim Barton and five others.

Allen has maintained that Locher's fees are excessive and draining his office's budget. He further claims that Locher is unfit to serve as special prosecutor because he has challenged the integrity of Madison and St. Clair counties judges.

In a response filed May 7, Locher said the fee issue is a "red herring" and that his fees are the same as those charged by former special prosecutor Paul Verticchio in a case against former state's attorney Don Weber.

Weber was cleared of those charges.

Locher also said he has offered to hold a hearing at which his charges against the judges would be substantiated, but that no such hearing has been called.

Dan O'Neill said Allen's rebuttal notes that, although Verticchio's fee was the same as Locher's, Verticchio concluded the case against Weber for under $17,000.

Locher has already charged the state's attorney's office close to $40,000 and the case against Barton and the others has not yet come to trial, O'Neill said.

"We're not concerned with the $75 an hour. We're concerned about the total charges and the amount of hours we're being billed for," he said.

O'Neill said that he and Allen have taken "substantial issue" with Locher's characterization of all the respondents involved. He said Locher has used arrogant verbal abuse against Allen and the judges.

"He thinks he's (the) Grand Inquisitor," O'Neill said. He said a Jan. 8 motion by Locher asking that all 3rd Judicial Circuit judges be barred from hearing the case against Barton could not have been made in good faith.

"He questions the integrity of 35 judges," O'Neill said, "and expects the taxpayers to pay for it."

He said the initial intent of the state's attorney's office was to question Locher's fees.

But as we got more into it, it became clear that he (Locher) has never been an independent special prosecutor. He was simply Weber's hand-picked successor.

"Weber was involved from the beginning. Some of Locher's motions sound like Weber wrote them for him. It's like the election was never over," O'Neill contended.

The Supreme Court will now review Allen's motion to remove Locher. Locher's response, and Allen's rebuttal and decide if Locher should stay on as special prosecutor.

Locher was removed as special prosecutor in February on Allen's request and reinstated by the Supreme Court in April.

Allen has said the Supreme Court's decision to keep Locher on the case was made too quickly and he has therefore asked the high court to look at the question again.

Barton and five others are charged with an alleged scheme to reduce property tax assessments in exchange for contributions to Barton's legal defense fund. That fund was established in 1982 after Barton was indicted on an unrelated charge.

SWIAAA board's director asked by some to withdraw

By BONITA L. GOWER
Staff writer

Stanley Macieleski, chairman of the Southwestern Illinois Area Agency on Aging, resigned Thursday after board members called for a vote on the firing of executive director Roosevelt Peabody.

However, the dismissal vote was dropped when the meeting was recessed by vice-chairman Ed Jucewicz of East St. Louis, who took over after Macieleski left. The agency serves area counties and communities, including Granite City. Peabody refused comment Friday on the board events.

Board treasurer John Shank of Greenville motioned that Peabody's employment be terminated because Peabody "has not been able to do the job and will not be able to do the job the state is requiring."

He said Peabody should be allowed 90 days' severance pay and health insurance and be released from his duties.

Macieleski, who was asked to call for the vote, said he could recess the proceedings. However, on the second call for a vote, he said he would not be involved in such a move.

"I don't have to do anything," he said. "I'm resigning as chairman of this board."

The call for Peabody's ouster came one month after the local agency was suspended and any additional funding for the year cut off because of several financial conflicts.

Illinois Department on Aging officials have allowed the agency 90 days to rectify its problems, which have been described by Peabody as bookkeeping discrepancies.

Besides a specific plan of action to correct the matter, IDOA officials have stated the local agency must submit financial reports monthly instead of quarterly.

Prior to his final action, Macieleski of Chester said the board should try and get written statements of the allegations against Peabody before making any decisions on his ouster. He also asked that Shank withdraw his motion to keep the agency together and avoid a new ouster from taking over.

Macieleski could not be reached for further comment on his actions Friday.

Jucewicz also asked that the board consider the ramifications of such a move, noting it could lead to a lawsuit. He said it should have gone through the personnel committee first.

"The stone should be dropped. We should have full documentation because we can't afford a lawsuit, which I know will be coming," he stated.

Another board member, D. F. VanFossen of East Alton, agreed the issue required more study and discussion before a vote was taken. He said he has been on the board six or eight years and officials have always tried to get the facts before voting.

Maryville board member Ronald Lucas said, "To blame Mr. Peabody for the problems we have is very, very wrong. He may have shortcomings, but he tries to do the best he can."

He has worked short of help and he gets blamed for trying," Lucas continued. "The running of the agency is just as important for everyone here as Mr. Peabody. So if there's any shortcomings, I feel it's all our blame."

East St. Louis board member Ella Campbell said, "We need to look further than Mr. Peabody. We should consider a change of the board members."

Supporters of the motion to oust Peabody were almost as vocal as the opposition. Board member Sister Mary Ann Simpson of Belleville said there are other problems at SWIAAA which she feels are the result of poor administration.

"We have had 31 staff changes in 17 months," she said. "If anyone has been involved in any kind of management before, they'd know that's a sign of poor administration."

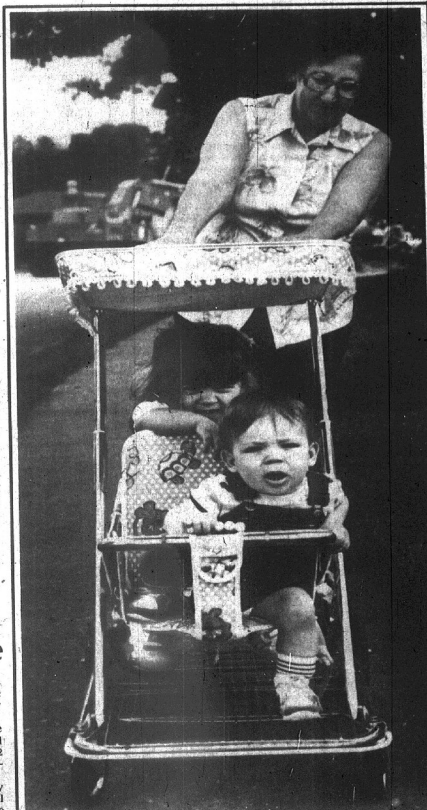

In addition, she said she requested a closed session last month to discuss the ouster, but it was refused.

Jucewicz said Friday he was very disappointed the board tried to fire Peabody and events went the way they did, especially since, in his opinion, there did not appear to be just cause.

He added there are still no plans to schedule a closed session because "we like to do things out in the open." The board will meet again May 31 at 1 p.m. with a site to be determined at a later time, he said.

SWIAAA, a not-for-profit agency encompassing the counties of Bond, Clinton, Madison, Monroe, Randolph, St. Clair and Washington, is designated Region 5 by the IDOA to serve persons 60 years and older.

Operating on funding authorized by the Older American Act and the State General Revenue Funds, the agency serves 105,000 seniors through nutrition and other health care programs.

Campbell gets contract for service in Chouteau Township

By RACHEL NEWSOME
For the Press-Record

Residents of Chouteau Township can once again expect ambulance service from Campbell Ambulance. Township trustees signed a contract with Campbell at Monday night's meeting. The contract became effective immediately.

The agreement states all residents are responsible to pay for services rendered. If payment is ignored, Campbell will notify Chouteau officials, allowing them to take legal action. If payment is not obtainable, the responsibility automatically becomes the township's.

Campbell has served Chouteau for about two years under an oral agreement.

Prior to the written agreement, Campbell for the past month had been available to those residents who had paid a $25 service charge. "We have not cashed any of the $25 checks. They will be sent back to all who initially paid for our services," said Roger Campbell, owner.

When asked how they felt about a signed contract with Campbell and therefore a continuation of services, residents had differing views. "I never had an occasion to use them, so my opinion is limited. I do believe, however, that serious consideration of boundary lines to form one district. I'd like to be a part of city limits, making city services available," said Don Kopp.

"I'm happy with the contract. I feel more comfortable with Campbell," said another resident.

For ambulance service, residents are to call 876-4411.

In other business, the board adopted a tentative township budget by a vote of 4-1. Trustee Jim Greer disapproved of the inclusion of a salary for the tax collector and related expenditures. Greer explained he had promised residents to try to omit a paid collector.

Other board members said that until Collector Mike Johnson's term is completed, they are obligated to pay him. His term ends Dec. 31, 1985.

The budget, including the collector's salary and expenditures, totaled $245,220, an increase of $24,138. There was a decrease of $61 in the general town fund, which this year amounted to $11,115. The general assistance fund, totaling $66,455, is up by $10,930 from last year. This year's revenue sharing fund is $67,650.

A public hearing on the budget is scheduled for June 25 at 7 p.m. at 697a N. Thorngate Drive.

Township Supervisor Morris Miles suggested raising present Township Hall rental fees. Existing fees are $35 for a resident, for a four-month period, with a negotiable fee for any additional hours. Other uses are $70, and non-residents pay $150. Action will await the gathering of more information by trustees.

Weber cleared of indictments

By JUDY TAPLIN

Slightly more than a year after indictments against then-State's Attorney Don Weber surprised and shocked Madison County, an appellate court opinion has cleared him.

The Fifth District Appellate Court in Mount Vernon upheld a circuit court judge's earlier dismissal of the charges against Weber.

THE OPINION said, in essence, that it is not a crime for a public official to seek favorable publicity and to want to be well thought of. Weber had been indicted in April 1984 on two official misconduct counts.

He was charged with seeking political advantage by the timing of indictments which were to be returned against former Supervisor of Assessments James Barton. Weber was barred from the case but Barton was later indicted by a grand jury led by special prosecutor Bruce Locher.

An "outside" judge, Howard White of Jersey County, dismissed the indictments against Weber last year. The dismissal was then appealed by Paul Verticchio, a special prosecutor who had supervised a special grand jury investigating allegations made against Weber.

IN THE NOVEMBER election, Weber lost the post of state's attorney to his Democratic challenger, Dick Allen.

In an interview, Weber said the appellate court opinion has laid the case against him to rest. Verticchio has told reporters he will not appeal the dismissal to a higher court.

Weber was pleased but not surprised at the appellate ruling, calling it "anti-climactic." But he said he believes a certain stigma will always remain despite his exoneration. There are always some people who won't know the whole story, he added; "it's a monster that will never go away."

WEBER, THE ONLY Republican officeholder in Madison County's Democratic enclave, said he was a victim of metro-east's political system: "I think politics had an awful lot to do with this (case)."

Weber said he believes Madison County must "get back on track," but he would not stop using the law to benefit their particular side. He said judges in Madison County should either, as he sees it, stay neutral or actively help in uncovering corruption.

The charges against Weber had alleged that, for his political gain, he had asked for an indictment before the March 1984 primary and prior to a session of Verticchio's special grand jury.

The appellate justices in their eight-page opinion said it is not a crime to do one's lawful duty even if one's motives might be improper.

"ALTHOUGH THE DOING of one's lawful duty out of an improper motive might bring condemnation and result in ouster at a subsequent election, it cannot, under the provision of section 33-3(c) (of the Criminal Code) constitute a crime," the justices concluded.

The opinion said government would be in chaos if all officials could be accused of having the wrong motives in carrying out their jobs properly.

Since his defeat in November, Weber, a former Collinsville resident, has applied for a federal judgeship and has interviewed with the U.S. Justice Department in its criminal trials division.

There is also the possibility of a job on the White House staff, Weber said.

AS YET, the judgeship has not been filled, and reasons for the delay haven't been made clear.

Meanwhile, Weber has a $31 million libel suit on file against Aniel Cuto, the Belleville attorney whose allegations prompted the special grand jury to investigate Weber last year.

A former Weber staff member, Marvin Darling, is also a defendant in the suit.

This April 30, an outside judge refused to reconsider his previous denial of a motion by Cuto to dismiss the lawsuit.

Weber claims he was libeled by Cuto to the chief judge of Madison County, to a 29 Madison County Board members, and to a state disciplinary commission for lawyers.

THE SPECIAL grand jury summoned to investigate Cuto's claims returned no indictments based on those allegations.

But the grand jury, under Verticchio, was granted permission to expand its probe to Weber's motivation for seeking the indictment.

Indictments later filed against Barton and five others by the Locher grand jury have not yet come to trial.

The arrests were made after one of the youths was apprehended at the residence by David Cotton, the occupant, and his friend, David Lynch. The two arrived at the home and saw a shadow in the window.

When Cotton entered the front door, at least three persons ran out the back door.

Cotton and Lynch chased the fleeing group across a field in back of the house. They reported finding one of the juveniles lying in bushes 300 yards away. Bolin and the other youth were taken into custody the next day.

Stained Panels

Photos and story
by Patrick Foley

The art of making stained-glass windows is usually thought of as something expert craftsmen do and laymen admire and even envy. Members of the congregation of Hope Lutheran Church, 3715 Wabash Ave., are definitely exceptions to that rule. About 30 parishioners are undertaking a project of making five such windows for their church.

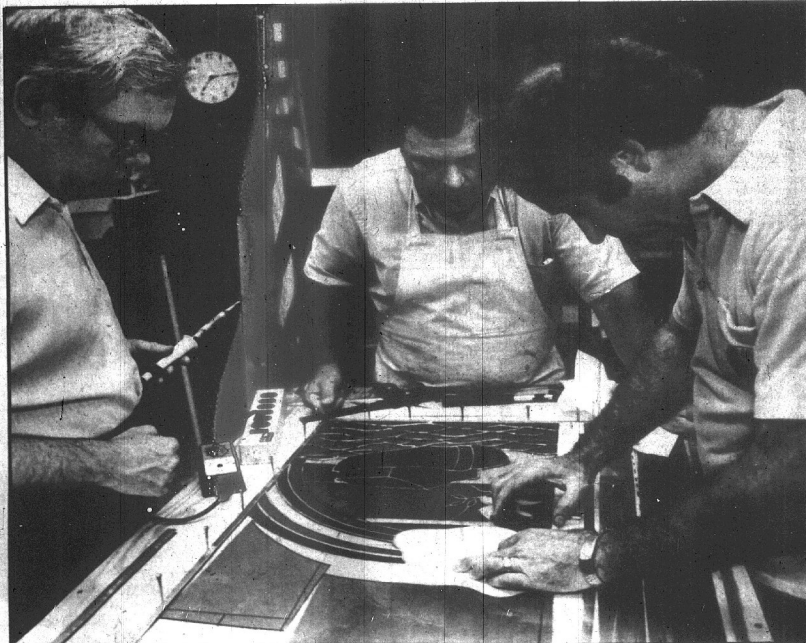

Coordinating the project is Roy Koberna, a member of the church and a sergeant with the Granite City Police Department. Many of the workers involved with the undertaking have been students of his, learning how stained-glass windows and other objects are made. A target date of Father's Day, June 16, has been set for the dedication of the windows. With the deadline nearing and four windows left to complete, the parishioners work diligently three days or more each week to complete their task. It is one that they will be able to admire with great personal satisfaction for many years to come.

DNRs elects '85-86 officers

John Hopkins was elected president of the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society (DNRs) at its May meeting held in the home of John and Sharon Calaway, 2205 Delmar Ave.

Others to serve for the forthcoming year include Brett Hanke, vice president, Jeanine Norn, secretary, Tim Elliott, treasurer, Kim Unfried, historian, and Margaret Hopkins, membership chairman.

Board members are John Melford, Gary Edgington, Virginia Unfried and Ladonna Walden. After the election, the main topic of discussion was the fall house tour in the downtown residential area.

Previously, the tour was held in the spring but this year the members agreed to sponsor the house tour on Sunday, Sept. 29, from 1 to 6 p.m. A list of the homes to be visited with a historical background of each of the buildings will be announced at a later date.

The homes on the tour are volunteered by the owners, with no monetary gain, to show the public the decorating possibilities, craftsmanship and architectural features of older homes downtown, the president said.

Proceeds from the project are designated by the organization for beautification of the downtown neighborhood.

A discussion was held on changing the monthly meeting from the second Friday to the second Saturday. Tentative plans were made to compile and publish a cookbook.

Strawberries wonderfully good

Strawberries bring bright taste of spring

By Antonia Allegra
Copley News Service

Strawberries are here! One of the first signs of spring, these plump mouthfuls of juicy goodness are adaptable for a variety of fruit-based dishes.

Strawberries appeal at table or as low-calorie snacks throughout the day and are quick to prepare. Consider the pleasures — visual as well as gustatory — of a rich cheesecake topped with strawberry halves and sauced with strawberry puree. Or imagine a fluffy biscuit-based cake piled with fresh strawberries and a mound of sweetened cream.

The variety of strawberry uses is unlimited: jammed in a flaky pie crinkled on ice cream sundaes; floating in fizzy punches; held in brilliant suspension in jams, jellies or syrups.

Strawberries will flourish from now through the summer and on into fall. But from mid-April through mid-June is the peak season for strawberries, and that makes right now the very best time to enjoy them.

To choose the best berries, growers suggest seeking fully ripened, bright red berries, as they do not ripen after being picked. The berries should be well-rounded, with a natural shine and bright green leaves. Never wash strawberries or remove the green caps until it is time to eat the berries. Washing removes the natural protective outer layer, and the caps protect the strawberry and help preserve flavor, texture and nutrients.

Here is a collection of strawberry recipes to enjoy throughout the season.

LINDY'S CHEESECAKE WITH STRAWBERRIES
5 (8-oz.) packages cream cheese
1 1/4 cups sugar
3 tbsps. flour
1 1/2 tssps. grated orange rind
1 1/2 tssps. grated lemon rind
1 tsp. vanilla extract

5 eggs
2 egg yolks
1/4 cup heavy cream

Crust:
1 cup all-purpose flour
1/4 cup sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
1 egg yolk
1/4 cup butter, melted
2 baskets strawberries, hulled and cleaned (decoration)
1 basket strawberries, hulled and cleaned (sauce)

Combine cheese, sugar, flour, grated orange and lemon rind and vanilla in large bowl. Beat by hand or with electric mixer at slow speed. When you add sugar, do it gradually. Add eggs and yolks one at a time, beating lightly after each addition. Stir in cream. Makes one 9-inch cake.

Crust: In medium bowl combine flour, sugar, lemon rind and vanilla. Make a well in center and add egg yolk and butter. Work together quickly with hands until well-blended. Chill slightly. With hands or with a fork, pat cookie dough onto bottom of springform pan. Bake in 400 F oven about 20 minutes or until golden brown. Cool and fill with cheese mixture. Bake in 500 F oven 12 minutes. Reduce temperature to 200 F, leave oven door open for about 3 minutes to cool down quickly, and continue baking cheesecake one hour. Cool before decorating with strawberry halves and cutting.

For sauce, puree prepared strawberries in blender. Pour some of sauce over top of decorated cheesecake and serve remainder on the side.

STRAWBERRY-SOUR CREAM BREAD
2 1/2 cups baking mix
3/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1/4 cup vegetable oil
1 1/2 tssps. ground cinnamon

2 tssps. vanilla
8 eggs
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 cup chopped strawberries or 1 (10 oz.) package frozen strawberries, rinsed, drained and, if whole, chopped
Sour Cream Glaze (below), if desired

Heat oven to 350 F. Grease and flour loaf pan, 9x5x3 inches. Mix baking mix, sugar, sour cream, oil, cinnamon, vanilla and eggs; beat 60 strokes. Stir in nuts and strawberries. Pour into pan. Bake until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean, 55 to 60 minutes. Cool 5 minutes; remove from pan. Cool completely on wire rack. Spread Sour Cream Glaze over top of loaf; garnish as desired.

Sour Cream Glaze:
1/2 cup powdered sugar
2 tssps. dairy sour cream
1/4 tsp. vanilla
1/2-1 tsp. water

Mix powdered sugar, sour cream and vanilla. Stir in water until smooth and of desired consistency.

STRAWBERRY GRAND MARNIER ICE CREAM
1 cup whipping cream
1/2 cup sugar
2 tssps. Grand Marnier or other orange liqueur
1 (20-oz.) bag frozen unsweetened whole strawberries

In blender or food processor, combine cream, sugar and liqueur. Turn machine on and drop in frozen strawberries, one at a time. Process until strawberries are pureed and cream is frozen. Serve immediately in attractive stemmed glasses. Leftovers can be placed in a freezer container and frozen, but will be icy and not as smooth. Serves 4 to 6.

Legendary apples prove their roots, cooking versatility

By Olivia and Paul Bensen
Copley News Service

Throughout history, apples have figured prominently in legend, from the forbidden fruit of knowledge offered to Eve by the serpent, to the golden apple of discord of Greek mythology.

Generations of American schoolchildren have learned of the travels of Johnny Appleseed, usually depicted with a tin pan on his head and a bag of apple seeds at his side. There really was such a character, though authorities disagree on the extent of his travels and the resulting influence on American applefdom.

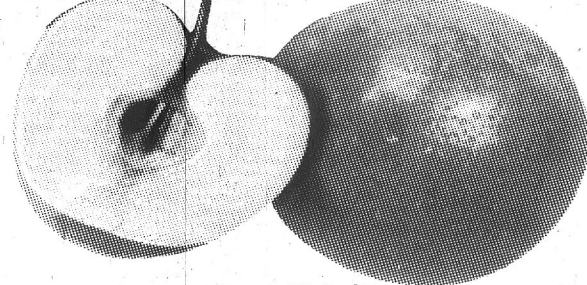

Apples are among the most varied of fruits. They can be red, yellow, green or any combination of these colors. They differ dramatically in texture, taste, juiciness and many other qualities. There are over 30 major families of apples, each with its own distinctive qualities.

Buy the freshest apples you can find, and look for those that are very hard and free from bruises. Though supermarkets charge a premium price for the biggest apples, such fruit is generally inferior to somewhat smaller ones — though the only real test is to taste.

Many cooks think of apples in terms of "cooking" and "eating" varieties and shop accordingly, but many varieties are excellent for both purposes. Among these versatile types are Baldwin, Cortland, Jonathan, Northern Spy and Granny Smith. Some of the best eating apples, though, don't stand up to cooking — like McIntosh, Delicious, Empire and Winter Banana (grown in the Midwest and Northeast). Some varieties that are more at home in the kitchen than the fruit bowl are Lodi, Pippin, York Imperial and Yellow Transparent.

In cooking, apples can complement a wide variety of other flavors. They blend well with other flavors, while retaining a taste of their own. They can cut the richness of meats like pork, duck and goose and can come down strong-tasting, vegetables like cabbage and turnips. In baked apples, though, apples are allowed to be the star.

Our recipes for today are for two of our favorite apple desserts. French Apple Tarts have been a favorite in Olivia's family for generations. The pate brisee is a rich, flaky pastry that goes wonderfully well with French Apples. The Applesauce Cake is our favorite of the many recipes for this classic dessert.

Granny Smith Apples

FRENCH APPLE TARTS
6-8 tart apples, cored, peeled and halved
1/4 cup sugar
Glaze
1/4 cup apricot jam or red currant jelly
1 tsp. water

Prepare two pate brisee tart shells (recipe follows) and fill with French Applesauce (recipe follows).

Slice apples into very thin half-moon-shaped slices. Arrange these, overlapping in circles, on top of applesauce. Sprinkle liberally with sugar.

Bake 45 minutes in preheated 375 F oven.

Meanwhile, simmer jam and water together for several minutes to make glaze. Brush glaze over tarts while they are still hot.

PATE BRISEE (SHORT PASTRY FOR TARTS)
3 cups (scant measure) white flour
1 1/2 sticks unsalted butter
5/8 tsp. cold water
1/4 tsp. (scant measure) salt

Flour in large mixing bowl. Make well in center and put butter, cold water and salt in well. Mix in by pressing butter, and flour against sides of bowl with heel of your hand.

When blended, knead for 30 to 60 seconds. Do not over-knead. Roll out dough to 1/8-inch thickness, and with it line two fluted tart pans with removable bottoms.

FRENCH APPLESAUCE
8 large, tart apples
1/4 stick butter
1/2 cup sugar
3 tbsps. water
1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind
1 small pinch salt

Peel, core and quarter apples. Place them in heavy saucepan.

along with butter, sugar, water, lemon rind and salt. Cook over low heat until apples are very soft. Cool mixture slightly and put through food mill or strainer. Divide between two tart shells.

APPLESAUCE CAKE
1 1/4 lbs. tart apples, cored, peeled and halved
1 tsp. baking soda
1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. freshly grated nutmeg

1 tsp. ground cinnamon
1/2 cup walnut meats
1 stick unsalted butter, softened
1 1/4 cups sugar
3 large eggs
1/2 cup seedless raisins

Thinly slice halved apples and place in medium saucepan. Add 2 tablespoons water and cook apples over low heat, stirring frequently, until they are very soft — about 45 minutes. When apples are thoroughly softened, remove them from heat, mash to uniform, coarse consistency and set aside to cool.

In blender or food processor, briefly mix baking soda, flour, salt, nutmeg, cinnamon and walnut meats.

In blender or food processor, blend butter and sugar until mixture is smooth. Add eggs and blend briefly again. Add apples and blend again briefly — just enough to distribute apple evenly. Add flour mixture and raisins and blend again briefly — just enough to moisten flour mixture.

Preheat oven to 375 F. Butter 2-inch-deep baking dish (12x10-inch or equivalent). Place batter in pan and bake 50 minutes. A cake tester pushed into center of cake will come out clean when cake is done. Serve with or without frosting. A creamy butter frosting is excellent.

APPLE GALETTES

1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
Melt together 1/2 cup butter and 1/2 cup chunky peanut butter in medium saucepan over low heat, stirring occasionally. Add 2 1/2 cups uncooked oats and 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar; mix well. Bake in 15x20x10-inch jelly roll pan in 350° oven 15 to 18 minutes or until golden brown, stirring occasionally. Cool.

Madison relay team, Brandt advance in state

State Track Meet

By GREGG OCHOA

Staff writer

CHARLESTON — It was like a death watch. But in the end, Granite City and Madison got a new life. Two isolated scenes both with a common bond took place here Friday at Eastern Illinois University's O'Brien Field during the preliminary round of the Illinois High School Association girls' track finals.

The first scene was at the discus area. The principle player was Granite City's Debbie Brandt. She leaned up against the fence with her hands clutching the chain links, waiting as the results were tabulated.

Brandt advanced into Saturday's final on the strength of her first throw (120-feet, 8-inches). On her second attempt, she chinked it off to the side. The third attempt, fell way short of the desired mark.

"It's such a disappointment," Brandt said afterwards. "I felt good but (the throw) had nothing on it."

Brandt's loss placed her in seventh place going into the final round. The top eight competitors advanced to finals which were to be held Saturday.

Defending champion Debbie Rutkowski Oak Lawn Richards recorded the day's best toss (124-feet). O'Fallon's Kristi Baum, who had the best mark coming into the state finals, threw 122-feet, 4-inches.

Of the eight finalists, all four representatives from the Belleville East sectional qualified. "I think I was trying to be a bit too cautious because so many people had scratched," Brandt said.

The cold weather also didn't help. It delayed the start of the discus event by 15 minutes. That combined with the five flights, forced Brandt to wait over three hours before her first throw.

"It was such a long wait it was hard to get warm."

However, Brandt blamed her two bad throws on her technique. She admitted she was trying to over compensate for a little more power.

"This is all mental. If you think somebody will beat you then they will," she added. Brandt, who finished fourth overall last year, said he hopes to be more relaxed Saturday. "What's good about this is that what's been thrown is in my reach."

The second scene of the day was in the foyer of O'Brien Stadium. The principle players were members of Madison's 800-met relay team. On a far wall of the complex was a huge bulletin board where meet officials posted the heat results.

The Trojanettes were waiting. They had entered the meet with the fastest sectional time, but finished third in their heat in 1:54.9. The top eight times advanced to the finals and Madison wasn't so sure they would make it. The fourth heat was faster than expected.

There was silence. Finally, word came down. The Trojanettes were awarded the eighth — and final — spot for the finals.

Seniors Cherri Ware and Gina Griggs rushed to hug their coach. They, along with Tammy Deal and Angela Harper will now run for a possible state title.

However, Madison drew lane No. 8 on the far outside. "I don't care what lane we get just as long as we are in the finals," said Ware, a senior who runs the first leg. "That's all I wanted to get in the finals," echoed Madison Coach Luvenia Long. "And I didn't think we were going to get that."

"I can't believe that race. We must have still been thinking of that other relay."

Madison's 400-meter relay team finished last in their heat after a missed hand-off between Griggs and Tammy Deal.

"That was the first time since I have been coach here that we dropped a baton. We've had messed up hand-offs before, but never dropped one," Long said.

Long feared the incident might have a "carryover effect" into the next race.

"Tammy was real down after a have to put what happened out of your mind."

Deal, a sophomore, shook it off and won her heat of the 400-meters in 1:00.9 — the fourth fastest time of the day.

"The wind was terrible. It really slowed me up," Deal, who posted the fastest sectional time of any runner, had little trouble as she led after making up the stagger.

"I had nobody to push me," she said. "The other girl who ran a fast time in the sectional (Kim Doubet of Dunlap) was in the other heat."

So, Madison will send finalists in two of the three events it entered.

In Class AA, Lincoln qualified 14 persons for the finals, among those are defending state champions Nicole Thompson (hurdles) and Mary Cobb (long jump).

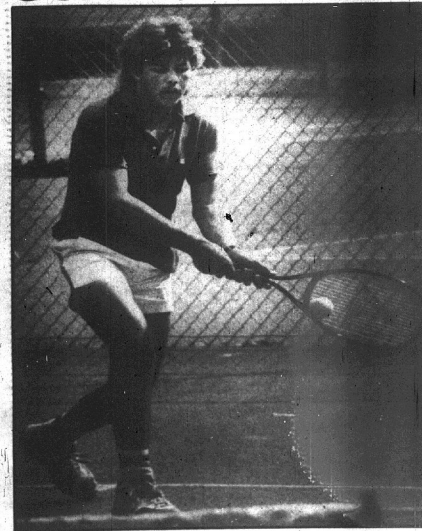

The only two events which Lincoln failed to get a finalist was the 100 meters and the 1,600-meters. Lincoln, seeking a fourth straight title, led all schools with the total number of qualifiers. East St. Louis and Chicago South Shore were next. Both schools will send five entries into the finals.

Among other area entries, Collinsville's Pam Quarenghi, who shared a dormitory room with Brandt, finished 25th overall in the 1,600. Her time was 5:23.

Tennis Sectional

GCCHS still has a 'chance'

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

Executive Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — Tennis is a game of lines, angles and drop shots, but more than anything, it's a game of chance.

Defending sectional champions, Granite City High School's Warriors still have a slight chance to repeat as champions, but things will have to go their way. In particular, the Warriors' Rob Lombardi, seeded second in the post-season tournament, will have to earn a berth into the singles championship and then upset first seeded Chris McNeill of Alton-Marquette.

But that's not all. Not only will Lombardi have to play his best tennis, but the Alton Redbirds' doubles duo of Todd Volland and Kris Grabner will have to lose their semifinal match to fourth seeded Erik Simon and Kirby Lacy of Jerseyville.

If, if, if... "Things don't look real good for us now," lamented Warrior coach Dick Harmon after Friday's first round. "We lost a few crucial matches that could have put us ahead. We no longer control our own destiny. Now the championship depends on what others will do."

Through Friday's action, the Warriors trailed Alton in team points by one, 8-7. The Warriors picked up four points in doubles and three in singles. The Redbirds picked up one more doubles point than the Warriors to take the team lead.

Trailing the Redbirds' and the Warriors in team points are Wood River, Jerseyville and Marquette. Each had five team points midway through the tourney.

By deadline early Saturday, Lombardi was the Warriors' only surviving entry in the sectional. Lombardi, who received a first-round bye because of his second seed, pounded his way past Roxana's Gary

GCCHS gets to .500 in SWC

GRANITE CITY — Bob Stegemeyer and his Warriors wanted this one, and the Collinsville pitching staff obliged.

The Kahok hurlers issued 10 walks Thursday as Granite City took a 12-1 decision in a five-inning Southwest Conference baseball game at Varsity Field.

With the victory, Granite City ends its conference schedule with a season split against each school.

"Before the game I told Russ (Kahok Coach Keene) to watch out for us we wanted to be .500 (in the conference)," Stegemeyer said. Fortunately on a cold, windy day the Warriors needed the minimum innings to administer the knockout punch.

The telling blow came in the third where Granite City scored 10 times on just five hits.

Three times Collinsville walked runs in with the bases loaded. All told, the Warriors got four runs that way.

"They helped us out a lot," Stegemeyer said. "And then when they finally were able to throw strikes we were able to make good contact."

Shane Cole started the inning off with a single. Pat Cathey then blooped one over second base and Todd Hinterser walked to load the bases.

Collinsville pitcher Bob Range, a left-hander, then began to have control problems. He issued consecutive walks to John Conkovich and Steve Davis scoring two runs.

Then Dennis Gaudreault rapped a 1-2 pitch into the center field scoring two more.

One batter later, Range was lifted for Marty Conway who promptly walked Cole and Cathey for two more runs.

Hinterser cracked a double to score two more. Conkovich got his second RBI of the inning — and third of the game — when he bounced out to shortstop Paul Bilyeu allowing

Midgets cut Devils to size

By JOE THOMPSON

FREEBURG — As the top seed in the Columbia Class A Regional baseball tournament, the ball literally and figuratively resided with Freeburg in its contest against unheralded Venice here Thursday.

Midget Coach Sidney (Sid) Allen took the ball and handed it to ace hurler Scott Muskopf, a sophomore with a blazing fastball and a 1.2 ERA.

It mattered not the Red Devils were seeded last, and pulled off an upset win just to make it to Freeburg.

Allen, in his second year at the Midget helm, explained, "I don't know much about Venice, but one kid (a pitcher) can control a game. Some people said Venice hasn't won too many games. But you don't take chances."

The Midgets smoked down the Red Devils, 10-0, in a contest abbreviated by the five-inning, 10-run mercy rule. And Muskopf?

How good he fared was best demonstrated in an early inning exchange. After becoming Muskopf's fifth strikeout victim with two outs in the second, the Red Devils' Mike Hogan mustered a rallying salvo to his teammates.

"We're making this guy look good," he grumbled.

A Red Devil player answered, "He is good." Muskopf struck out five more batters — nine in all — and allowed just two hits to send 15-10 Freeburg against the winner of the Assumption-Dupo contest. The right-handed throwing Muskopf did not walk any.

The Red Devils didn't go to sleep, although their season was put to rest. Its epitaph: 3-13.

They played well afield despite two errors. Red Devil coach Clinton Harris, Jr., said, "They were seeded first and we were seeded last. They didn't outplay us. They hit the ball. We didn't."

All except for Red Devil center fielder Marion Jennings. He got both Venice's hits, a line drive single in the second and a beseit in the fourth.

Said Jennings, "Get a couple of hits. Make a couple of catches (he had two putouts in center field). My season is over," he said. "I join the ranks of the unemployed."

Not quite. Jennings won't graduate for another few weeks. One thing that is important to realize is Jennings was the Red Devils' only full-time playing senior.

The Red Devils have another senior player, pitcher Damon Harris. He was only able to play in about seven games, which was why he

TENACIOUS TENNIS. That's the best way to describe the way Chris Cheney played tennis Friday afternoon in the Granite City High School Sectional Tennis Tournament. Cheney, unseeded in the post-season affair, upset fourth seeded Chris Todd in the first round, but lost in the second round to Rob Yeates of Jerseyville. The competition is the final leg before the state tournament next weekend. (Staff photo by Alan L. Gerstenecker)

Gray, looping jumper to play for GCC cagers

By GREGG OCHOA

GRANITE CITY — Jeff Gray's staying at home and Granite City Center basketball coach Terry Collins couldn't be happier. "Jeff's a good local player who'll help our school," Gray, who helped lead Granite City High School to its first regional championship in 14 years, has signed a letter to intent to play basketball at Granite City Center next fall.

"We're excited to have him," said Stars' coach Terry Collins. "He's a good local player who'll help our school."

Gray becomes the fourth new recruit announced by Collins who is in his second season as the GCC cager coach.

"Jeff's background, playing for Don Warrior coach Deterding, will help him. He comes from a well-disciplined program," Collins said. "He understands that he has to work hard. For (our program) that's important."

As a senior, the 6-foot, 2-inch Gray averaged 20 points a game. It was the fifth best scoring average in the Metro East area. Gray also was a 72 percent free throw shooter and pulled down 124 rebounds for Granite City.

The statistics impressed coaches as Gray was named to the first team Southwestern Conference squad.

"I think (the decision) is good for Jeff and I'm happy for him," Deterding said.

"There are two reasons why I think that, one, Jeff still needs to improve in some areas and a junior college is a good place for that."

"The second is a very selfish reason, I'll get to see him play," Deterding said. "Jeff's a super kid and whenever you coach somebody you like to see him play and improve."

For Gray, who plans to study computer science in college, the opportunity to play locally was the determining factor in his decision.

Gray said he had some offers from outside Division III level schools, but he wasn't sold on the idea of leaving.

"When it came right down to it," he said, "There was something in the back of my mind... I didn't really want to go away."

Gray is optimistic about the upcoming season.

"I just hope with the four returning players for last year and the new ones, we can start a good winning program. Hopefully, we can get a lot of local fans to come out and see the games."

Among the other players Collins has signed include Jeff Pieper, Waterloo Gibraltar, Tryone Crayton of St. Louis McKinley High and Perry Jones of Vashon High School also in St. Louis.

Collins said Gray will likely occupy the wing.

"I was talking to Jeff's dad," Collins said, "and he was wondering if we would have a place for Jeff. I told him anytime you have a good shooter like that, you can always find a spot for him."

In high school, Gray was a deadly shooter who was able to hit tough shots despite being double teamed by opposing schools.

The Associated Press included Gray as an honorable mention choice in its annual Class AA state basketball team.

Collins feels Gray will be a valuable asset to the Stars. Although the coach said there will be some transitions, especially on defense. Gray plays primarily man-to-man defense where the Warriors used a zone.

But both Collins and Deterding feel Gray is up to the challenge.

"He's a competitor," Deterding said of Gray. "He'll work hard at it."

Gray will be put on a conditioning program in the off-season to improve his upper body strength so he won't be hindered under the basket.

"That's more of a factor in col-participant in the field events. The Stars were 5-23 a year ago. They finished the season with just three players on the roster. Collins hopes the new signees will be the foundation of a solid program. "I think we got a good mix," Collins said of his new players. "They are all good, hard working kids. And they have come from winning programs. That's what you try to build on."

Granite City Center will begin its season Nov. 19 with a home game. All told, the Stars schedule includes 31 games.

Debut Sept. 1

Briggs, Star spikers sign three

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

GRANITE CITY — College coaches refer this time of the year April, May and June — as peak time, peak recruiting time.

It's a hectic period, but one where the labors of a long season of visiting and scouting players begins to pay off.

For Granite City Center volleyball coach Clabbe Briggs a winter of scouting has given way to this peak time, and with it the signing of the Stars' first three recruits.

In addition to the three returns from last year's squad, Briggs has acquired the services of Tammy Jones, Lisa Henson and Dawn Deterding. Veronica Williams, Kely Anderson and Jamie Essenspreis are the Stars' three returns from last year's squad. The Stars' coach says two more recruits will be named later and seeks to roster a team of 10.

Local volleyball enthusiasts may know one possibly two of the Stars' 1985 recruits.

Jones, 18, played for Coach Wilma Schulze last season at Granite City High School. Soon to graduate from GCCIS, Jones was a two-year starter for the Warriors at her center hitter's position.

Five-foot 9-inches tall, Jones uses a two-step approach to the net when spiking the ball. The daughter of James and Pansy Jones of Granite City, she will major in Judy Deterding's science while at Granite City Center.

The other familiar face that will join the Stars' squad will be that of Dawn Deterding, Deterding, who played volleyball two years ago at the nationally ranked program at Illinois Central College, is the daughter of Don Deterding, Warriors' varsity basketball coach.

A 1983 graduate of Triad High School in St. Jacob, Deterding was a familiar face at many of the Warriors' basketball games this season.

"At 5-foot 11-inches tall, she is quite a find," Briggs said Thursday afternoon announcing the recruits.

The third of Briggs' first group of recruits is Henson, 20, of Worden. A 1983 graduate of Worden High

School, Henson represented the Trojans on volleyball court each of her four years.

At 5-foot 3-inches tall, Henson's forte is her defensive prowess, her ability to dig and set the ball effectively for a return.

While at Worden High School, she was named to the Illinois-Gateway Conference First All-Conference Team. She comes to GCC via the recommendation of former GCC spiker Lettie Miller, from Venice, who played high school volleyball against Henson.

"We had two weaknesses last year: passing and serving," Briggs said. "Lisa is a strong passer — a very strong passer — and a good server. We've determined what our deficiencies were last year. She should help solve them."

While Henson will be the answer to the Stars' passing game, Deterding will help with the other shortcomings, the serve.

"Dawn's an excellent server, probably one of the best," Briggs said. "She uses an overhead serve that sort of floats over the net," Briggs completed her only year of junior college basketball by being selected the most valuable player in the Iowa Junior College All-Star Game.

A consensus Class A All-Stater out of Chadwick High School, Hippen averaged 21 points and also re-

"Some teams have been very successful with that kind of serve because it's so difficult to return."

As for Jones, Briggs called her a "complete player," one who is solid in virtually all facets of the game.

"I've been watching Tammy for two years. She's a good hitter and a fine server. She's a very complete player. And she's flexible enough that we can use her in any position," Briggs said.

In her third year as the Stars' coach, Briggs' goal for the coming season is to reach the 500 mark. In 1983, her first year, the Stars finished the season with a 4-10 mark. Last year, the Stars' season-ending tally was 6-9. Despite a tougher 1985 schedule, which includes 20 games and a tournament in Kansas City, the Stars' coach is confident of achieving the goal.

"We could easily reach the goal by filling our schedule with easy games, but we don't want to do that," Briggs said. "We've got a tough schedule and we still feel like we can reach the 500 mark."

The Stars open their season at home Sept. 9 against Florissant Valley.

also named to the Illinois Basketball Coaches Association All-Star Game and to the All-Area Team for the Sterling, Rockford and Freeport area. An honor student, Hippen played college basketball at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Hippen has indicated he will major in mathematics at SIUE.

Banks signs with Bearcats

By GREGG OCHOA

Staff writer

MADISON — For Reggie Banks, the wait is over and it's now back to business.

Banks, a power center for the Trojans' sectional champion basketball team, announced Wednesday he will attend Northwest Missouri State University in Maryville.

"I'm happy for Reggie because most kids don't get the opportunity to play college basketball or the chance to get an education which it is all about," said Madison Coach Rodney Watson.

Banks averaged 20.3 points per game. He also shot 66 percent from the foul line last year.

Despite the impressive credentials, the colleges weren't calling.

"At first there wasn't a whole lot of offers," Watson admitted. "That kind of got Reggie down a little. But then they all started coming in at once. There was a lot of interest."

"He was under a lot of stress, I think more than people realize."

Banks said he got offers "from several Division II schools and some junior colleges."

"I think he is one of the most overlooked players in the area," Watson said. "He's got great athletic ability and is a great jumper."

Northwest Missouri State is a Division II Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association school near Kansas City, Mo.

"I knew a couple of the players there and when I visited them, they were real nice," Banks said.

Banks who plans to study construction technology is looking forward to going away to school.

"I think it will help you to grow up," Banks said of going away to college.

"Reggie made a good move that will benefit him," Watson said. "He was really happy when he came back from his visit."

Watson feels Banks will be a welcome addition to the NWU program. "Reggie's the type of player who can step in early and make a contribution."

Last season the Bearcats were 17-10 and ranked as high as fifth in nation in a poll.

NOW A BEARCAT. Madison's Reggie Banks announced last week he will play basketball at Northwest Missouri State University. Banks, shown above with Trojans Coach Rodney Watson, was an honorable mention all-state player and averaged 20 points per game.

"We think Reggie is a real good player and he'll fit right in to our style," said NWU Coach Lionel Sinn.

"He's had a good career (at Madison). They used him a lot on the inside and that will fit in with what we do," Sinn said. "We use a passing game and play man-to-man defense."

"Reggie will probably play power forward and possibly guard. He has all the ability to be a good MIAA player," Sinn said.

"He'll probably playing more of the floor for us."

Sinn has been the head coach of Northwest Missouri State for the past six years and has led the Bearcats to winning seasons in each of those campaigns.

In five of the six seasons Northwest have been ranked in nationwide polls. Twice under Sinn the Bearcats played in the NCAA tournament.

Sinn, who coached nine years at the high school level in Indiana, also spent one year at Indiana University as a graduate assistant in 1972. The Hoosiers, under Bobby Knight, that season advanced to the Final Four in St. Louis.

The Bearcats, incidentally, sport the colors of green and white — the same colors of Madison.

"I knew about that," Sinn said. "It wasn't part of my selling job to Reggie, but it worked out well."

Graham inks another signee

EDWARDSVILLE — Last year, when Larry Graham was named head basketball coach at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Cougar fans knew it might take a while before they became familiar with all the new players he assembled for the 1984-85 season.

While it's a year later, Cougar basketball fans may continue to double-check their roster sheets, as Graham has announced the signing of his seventh newcomer for the 1985-86 campaign.

Jeff Hippen, a 6-foot 6-inch forward who earned first-team All-Eastern Iowa Conference honors last year at Clinton Community College, has signed a basketball letter of intent with the Cougars.

Hippen, who started his collegiate career at Eastern Illinois University, averaged 15.9 points and nine rebounds per game last year.

He also connected on 52 percent of his shots from the field and 75 percent of his free throw attempts. He completed his only year of junior college basketball by being selected the most valuable player in the Iowa Junior College All-Star Game.

A consensus Class A All-Stater out of Chadwick High School, Hippen averaged 21 points and also re-

also named to the Illinois Basketball Coaches Association All-Star Game and to the All-Area Team for the Sterling, Rockford and Freeport area. An honor student, Hippen played college basketball at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Hippen has indicated he will major in mathematics at SIUE.

Hippen also comes from a basketball background; his brother, Jack, played college basketball at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Jack has indicated he will major in mathematics at SIUE.

McEuen 6-0, 6-0, in the second round. McEuen, unseeded in the tourney, bettered Wood River's Burris Jackson 5-7, 6-4, 8-6 to earn the right to meet Lombardi in the second round.

Chris Chenevert, the Warriors' other singles player in the tourney, upset fourth-seeded Chris Todd of Civic Memorial (Bethalto) 1-6, 6-4, 6-3, to advance to the second round.

Chenevert's success ended, however, in the second round as he dropped a two-set match to Rob Yates of Jerseyville. Yates, along with Alton's Craig Sun, Lombardi and McNeill will square off in semifinal action Saturday when singles action resumes. Lombardi will meet Sun (third seed) while McNeill will meet Yates.

In doubles action, both Warriors duos started off with first-round victories only to find a victory much harder in the second round.

Jim Johannpeter and Mike Millard upended Civic Memorial's Larry Brown and Devin Shewmake 6-1, 6-2 only to lose to Voland and Grabner in the second round, 6-1, 6-1.

Jerry Lakin and David Aarne, who had played doubles together just once prior to Friday's pairings, earned a 6-1, 6-3 first-round victory over Jerseyville's Mark Mossman and Jim Humphrey, but then lost to Tom Stone and Joe Daniel of Alton Marquette 6-1, 6-4.

Advancing to the doubles semifinals are Voland and Grabner and fourth-seeded Simon and Lacy. Marquette's duo of Stone and Daniel will meet Wood River's second-seeded duo Tom Kladar and Ron Federchuk.

All semi-final action, unlike the first and second, will be played at the Wilson Park tennis courts.

The sectional championship team and the first and second singles and doubles players will advance to this weekend's state tournament in Arlington Heights. Action begins Thursday with the championships slated for Saturday morning.

Record bass is displayed

Thousands of central Illinoisans now know exactly what a state-record fish looks like. They recently had an opportunity to look at Mark Samp's six-pound, seven-ounce smallmouth bass as it swam in a 20 gallon aquarium at the Peoria All Sports Show.

Samp, a resident of Peoria, caught the fish several weeks ago in a Fulton County strip mine lake. He kept the fish and in an aerated tank in his basement for a few days before displaying it at the show.

Samp's fish weighed one and a half ounces more than the fish taken by former record holder Gene Wyatt, Bloomington, who took his record fish from a McLean County farm pond in 1980. The new record smallmouth bass was 20.6 inches long.
